Session Two: New Drivers in Scholarly Communication

How do some of today's influential "outside" experts think about investing in scholarly communication? The three speakers on this panel will provide insights from their vantage points, which include investment banking, foundation granting, and publishing industry consulting. Look for thoughts about what they see as future priorities in scholarly publishing and communications.

Moderator: Ann Okerson (Senior Advisor on Electronic Strategies, Center for Research Libraries, Chicago, IL)

2:15 p.m. – 2:30 p.m. Introduction to Session

Saturday Keynote

Kurt De Belder (University Librarian, University of Leiden)

9:45 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

Session Three: Copyright in the Digital Age

The Digital Revolution has impacted on all aspects of our lives including copyright law and management. How do we preserve a righteous balance between author rewards and user needs? There are a lot of different answers sometimes involving intense advocacy and disagreement. This session will take the form of panel with short and calm presentations by experts who are not in anyone's camp yet are closely involved in the argument — followed by possibly structured interaction. The speakers are mostly in one jurisdiction (England and Wales) but similar discussion could take place in any jurisdiction.

Moderator: Anthony Watkinson (Principal Consultant, CIBER Research, UK)

Richard Hooper CBE (Managing Partner, Hooper Communications)

Laurence Kaye (Partner, Publishing & Digital Media, SHOOSMITHS LLP)

Ben White (Member, LIBER Copyright Working Group)

Wilma Mossink (Independent Copyright Expert)

*Please Note: There will be a Break from 10:30 - 10:45 a.m.
(Sponsored by ProQuest)*

12:00 p.m. – 12:30 p.m.

Closing

Clifford Lynch (Director, CNI)

12:30 p.m. – 1:30 p.m.

Luncheon – Location: DoubleTree by Hilton, Granta Suite

Optional Post-Retreat Event – Cambridge Pub Crawl

The group will start from the hotel, and it is hoped that we can arrange a visit to one of the colleges along the way. We will then visit four of the best-known Cambridge pubs — the Baron of Beef, the Mitre, the Pickerel, and the Maypole — sampling some of the drinks available in each one. Fytton Rowland is an active member of the Campaign for Real Ale, so he hopes that people will choose English-style cask ales, but of course other drinks both alcoholic and non-alcoholic are available. The group will then walk back to the hotel, stopping off at another pub, the Eagle if they feel inclined!
