With the support and collaboration of EUI and CLIR, Casalini Libri and Charleston Hub will celebrate the 25th edition of the Fiesole Collection Development Retreat series in Fiesole, Italy, from 7–9 April 2025, hosted by the European University Institute. Join us as we build upon our collective foundations and move towards the next 25 years in a climate of dialogue, participation and partnership.

Our 25th Retreat is fast approaching and we're pleased to present the full programme for this special anniversary meeting in Fiesole.

With contributions covering topical themes, including evolutions – past and future – in biodiversity among the players of the information chain, we will look “through the lens of the Humanities” to explore changes in attitudes to special collections and humanistic research, consider the question of metrics, with a special focus on aspects such as measurement and monitoring, prestige and incentives, and work towards inclusivity, examining how to level the playing field for effective and widespread access to knowledge.

We are delighted and honoured to welcome speakers from prestigious academic institutions and publishers, alongside colleagues from international organisations and experts in the scholarly publishing world, whose diverse perspectives will offer valuable insight and inspiration into each of our themes as we aim to build partnership, foster conversation and provide the opportunity for meaningful discussion among all parties in the scholarly information sector.

As always, our rich social programme brings a welcome chance to enjoy our surroundings, make new connections and catch up with friends.

What better way to wind up our discussions each day than a relaxed environment, compelling company, good food – and a cocktail or two?

The magnificent Grand Hotel Baglioni in Florence, which will provide the stunning setting for our Conference dinner, is currently offering discounted rates for Fiesole Retreat delegates. Book before 6th March to ensure you don't miss out! See details in the Practical Information section of the conference website.
